Short Bio:

Solar Circuit is a Philadelphia based jamtronic trance fusion quartet, rooted in experimentation and improvisation. With spanning genres from funk to rock to electronic to trance and beyond, the group enjoys pushing boundaries and creating musical intricacies.

With a very busy 2017, the group continued to play live locally as well across the surrounding Northeast area (i.e. NY, CT, MA, VA), while also releasing full length studio LP 'One Around the Sun'. Having just completed the 'One Around the Sun' Northeast fall tour, 2017 closed out with a bang with the Twiddle AfterParty (Albany, NY on 12/30/17) and the NYE Dopapod AfterParty at the House of Blues (Boston, MA on 12/31/17). Soundboard audio from the NYE House of Blues set is available for free download via bandcamp.

2018 and beyond will hosts even more expansive events and festivals for this group with motivation and passion fueling their drive into the future. With the true intentions to speak to their audience in a positive and engaging way, the group aims to continue to build their following and provide new material, releases, covers, and events to keep their audience captivated.

“Smooth-moving vocal artistry and trigger-itchy rhythm stylings envelop a troubling but nuanced communication of the soul.”

“Even with influences like The Disco Biscuits, STS9, Lotus, and Phish, Solar Circuit maintains a unique style and sound in their live performances and in their recent studio work while mixing in the dance/trance element...”

“This is a band that seems to be mindful of their experimental motifs yet allow themselves the freedom to create music which knows no bounds.”

Get to know the band...

Becca Le Van, Keys/Synths/Vocals

Becca powers up her space station with each performance, playing a variety of handpicked analog and digital synths, including the limitless use of the Ableton Live platform. With an eclectic bunch of musical influences, she pulls the fundamentals from favored classics mixed with modern electronic trance.

Nick Orlove, Guitar

Having developed a unique and varied style and tone, Nick uses his fundamental sway towards organic guitar work with interesting new age technology and electronics. With rock and blues roots, Nick pushes the experimental envelope to provide the fusion of genres and styles, showing no bounds to his technique or style.

Rob Fray, Drums

With a background in technical drumming, Rob provides a must-have energy to the group with his upbeat and consistent rhythm. Not only providing steady and traditional drumming, Rob incorporates technologically intriguing elements by utilizing his own sample pad station for unique samples, vocals, pads, and percussion.

Taylor Jamison, Bass/Vocals

Not only providing the fundamentals of funk and rock bass guitar, Taylor delivers an extremely dynamic and unique style, incorporating bass synths and electronic rhythms. While also being a well-versed electronic producer, Taylor brings much to the table in terms of structured material and composition.
